HOME OF YURTS AND SQRSTS

What to bring along to a festival.

Double check you have these:

- Festival ticket.
- Money / bank cards.
- ID - many festivals require this for entry / service at the bars.

Cooking checklist: (Though festivals have a wonderful range of food sometimes you may want to cook)

- Stove or barbecue. (Check festivals rules first as certain events have strict rules on what are allowed)
- Pan / mess tin for cooking.
- Cutlery.
- Food for meals / snacks. (If you're on the go high energy bars etc are recommended)
- A water carrier to save repeated trips to the tap.
- Tin opener.
- Lighter.

Clothing checklist: (Never trust a weather forecast!)

- Waterproof jacket.
- Hoodie / fleece.
- Quick drying bottoms, denim really knows how to hold water in!
- Comfortable shoes & boots, a spare pair is highly recommended.
- Wellies / gators.
- Hat for both shade or warmth.
- Plenty of spare socks and pants!

Health and safety checklist:

- Personal medication + extra. (Check festival rules for prescription medication)
- First aid kit. (Festivals have amazing welfare staff but its much easier if you get a scrape to sort it yourself)
- Sun cream.
- Anti-bacterial hand wash.
- Fully charged phone and power bank for when you're out and about (we always have charging facilities to use too)
- Wet wipes.

Other things to bring:

- Camping chairs
- Ear plugs
- Extra blankets incase its gets a bit chilly.
- Torch + batteries or wind up, for late night loo trips.
- Loo roll incase the toilets ever run out.
- Towels (unless you're in a luxury yurt which has them included) & toiletries.
- A wind break, for that extra bit of privacy while outside.....or just to stop the wind!!
